Risk Management Program “Voluntary Protection Program”

Abstract

Create a voluntary compliance assurance and protection program at EPA that allows RMP-regulated entities to invite an EPA audit without fear of penalty.

Goals

1. Improve industry-agency relations
2. Avoid litigation
3. Provide certainty to participating companies
4. Encourage a more goal-oriented approach for industry rather than penalty-avoidance behavior
5. Shift EPA’s enforcement focus to “outliers” (bad actors)

Implementation Considerations

- Ensure the program does not conflict with OSHA VPP requirements for PSM-regulated facilities.
- Provide expedited path for PSM-regulated facilities already meeting OSHA VPP requirements.
- Ensure companies have ample opportunity to cure issues identified through the application process so they can participate. Ensure that companies accepted in the program cannot be easily kicked out of the program and assessed penalties for issues identified through periodic audits.
  - If the company does not meet the qualifications, they should have a reasonable period to take corrective actions and be accepted into the program.
  - If the company’s corrective actions do not suffice, EPA may deny their application. The company should then be able to apply again after one year.
    - **EPA may not assess monetary penalties for potential violations discovered through the voluntary inspections**
    - Willful conduct is excluded
- Provide special assistance for small businesses to apply and participate without hassle.
- Five to seven year reevaluation.
- Participating companies would be exempt from penalties for violations discovered during voluntary inspections, but will continue to be inspected, with penalties assessed, for violations found during inspections initiated through complaints and/or incidents.
- Provide for an EPA sponsored ‘consult’ program to provide guidance on developing and implementing compliant programs.

Re: Risk Management Program Rule Amendments

Dear Deputy Assistant Administrator Davis:

We appreciated the opportunity to meet with you and your colleagues on July 12, 2017, to discuss the revisions to the Risk Management Program (RMP) regulations at 40 C.F.R. Part 68. As you requested, Marathon Petroleum Company LP (MPC) respectfully submits these comments regarding compliance audits. Specifically, we request that EPA reconsider the rule language requiring owners to audit "each covered process" and, alternatively, adopt language consistent with industry auditing practices, which recognizes a representative sampling approach to auditing. Next we propose adoption of a voluntary auditing program that would encourage owners to participate in independent audits prior to any incidents occurring at facilities. We believe that an auditing program designed to prevent incidents would be much more beneficial than requiring independent third-party auditing after an incident has occurred.

The revised RMP requirement to audit "each covered process" is unduly burdensome. Instead, the rule should be amended to require the owner to audit a representative sample of covered processes to verify compliance with the RMP regulations.

The revised RMP rule has expanded the auditing requirements for those facilities that have more than one covered process. The compliance audit provisions in 40 C.F.R. §§ 68.58(a) and 68.79(a) as amended by the RMP Amendments state:

The owner or operator shall certify that they have evaluated compliance with the provisions of this subpart for each covered process, at least every three years to verify that the procedures and practices developed under the rule are adequate and being followed. (emphasis added).

Read literally, a facility owner would be required to review each RMP element at each covered process at its facility during a compliance audit. The time and resources necessary to perform such a task is significantly greater than any benefit that could be derived. Further, auditing of each covered process is not necessary to verify compliance with the RMP regulations. Ample regulatory and industry guidance exists regarding the way in which to perform comprehensive compliance audits, focusing on auditing of the RMP management system and representative sampling. The RMP management system is typically implemented across the entire facility, and, thus, auditing a sample of processes would be representative of all covered processes within the management system. Any common audit findings identified in multiple processes sampled would be addressed system-wide, and not just at the processes in which the finding was discovered.

An audit of the system is consistent with OSHA's approach to Process Safety Management (PSM) compliance audits. In Appendix C to §1910.119, OSHA states, "Employers need to select a trained individual or assemble a trained team of people to audit the process safety management system and program. . . . The audit is to include an evaluation of the design and effectiveness of the process safety management system and a field inspection of the safety and health conditions and practices to verify that the employer's systems are effectively implemented." 29 C.F.R. §1910.119, App. C, ¶14 (emphasis added).

OSHA further discusses the use of sampling in auditing. "An audit is a technique used to gather sufficient facts and information, including statistical information, to verify compliance with standards. Auditors should select as part of their preplanning a sample size sufficient to give a degree of confidence that the audit reflects the level of compliance with the standard." Id. This approach is further defined in OSHA's guidelines. In preparing for a compliance audit, OSHA recommends that during planning "auditors should select a sufficient number of processes to give a high degree of confidence that the audit reflects the overall level of compliance with the standard. Each employer must establish the format, staffing, scheduling, and verification methods before conducting the audit."<sup>1</sup>

Like OSHA, industry experts endorse statistical sampling strategies in execution of a comprehensive audit for an RMP covered stationary source. For example, the Center for Chemical Process Safety (CCPS) guidelines for auditing PSM Systems apply various unit sampling strategies to ensure a robust PSM audit.

For example, CCPS's most recent version of Guidelines for Auditing PSM Systems (2011), indicated a "lead auditor and audit coordinator for the site should decide which units will be chosen as representative units. A representative unit is a unit or part of a unit covered by the PSM program that is being audited in lieu of and as a representative of all covered units."<sup>2</sup> The guidelines further describe that levels of risk, age (of units), incident history, audit history and availability are all factors in considering covered process unit sampling strategies.

In addition, the Board of Environmental, Health & Safety Auditor Certifications (BEAC) and The Auditing Roundtable, in their joint letter to EPA commenting on the revised RMP rule, suggested that the following language is a better auditing strategy based on their expertise and experience:

<sup>1</sup> Process Safety Management Guidelines for Compliance, U.S. Department of Labor, Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA 3133, 1994).

The owner or operator shall certify that they have evaluated compliance with the provisions of this subpart for a representative sample of covered processes sufficient to reflect compliance, at least every three years to verify that the procedures and practices developed under the rule are adequate and being followed.<sup>3</sup>

MPC respectfully requests EPA adopt the covered process unit sampling strategies described in the referenced guidelines, which have been compiled by OSHA, industry experts and audit certifying organizations with specific experience in process safety management. In their documents, these organizations have presented compelling explanation and rationale why auditing a representative sample of a facility's covered processes is as effective, if not better, than arbitrarily requiring, by a prescriptive regulation, an audit of each covered process.

A voluntary auditing program would encourage independent auditing of facilities before accidental releases occurred.

In addition to requiring a compliance audit of "each covered process," the revised RMP rule also mandates that the audit be performed by an independent third-party auditor within twelve months of an accidental release. We support the comments from API, AFPM and CSAG regarding concerns with the third-party auditing provisions. Rather than rehash those comments, we offer an alternative to the third-party auditor requirement. We propose a program, similar to OSHA's Voluntary Protection Program (VPP), in which facility owners would voluntarily submit to independent third-party audits in exchange for certification. These audits would take place before an accidental release occurred at a facility and would serve to prevent, rather than react, to an incident.

Attached is an outline of considerations for a voluntary auditing program. The program could work in tandem with OSHA's VPP and provide facilities that are already certified under OSHA's VPP with an expedited path to similar status under EPA's program. In addition, the voluntary auditing program could provide compliance assistance to small businesses and facilities seeking guidance.

We would be happy to discuss further any of the information presented herein. Please do not hesitate to contact me at 419-421-2869.

Yours Truly,

I received the note posted below from EPA to see if we can move up our meeting scheduled for Tuesday, September 26, 2017 at 2:30 p.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Please let me know the following:

- 1) Name of individuals and organizations that plan to attend so I can provide a list to EPA before the meeting for security purposes.
- 2) Are you able to meet at 11: 30 a.m. where we may have more time OR should we keep it at 2:30 p.m.?

Thanks again for all your help! I recommend a pre-meeting where we get together about 1 hour ahead of the scheduled meeting time. Does anyone have an office located near EPA willing to host the meeting or would a local coffee shop work?

Just let me know. Thanks!

Best regards,

Richard

I am looking at Samantha's calendar and seeing meetings fill up around your meeting with her next Tuesday. Is there any chance your folks can make the meeting same day but at 11:30 a.m. instead? If not, let's leave it alone for now, I will keep an eye on things. Take care.

Subject: Brittany Bolen has been appointed to serve as the Associate Administrator (AA) for the Office of Policy

I am pleased to announce that Brittany Bolen has been appointed to serve as the Associate Administrator (AA) for the Office of Policy (OP), after serving as the acting OP AA since April 2018.

Before moving to her current role, Brittany served for a year as the Deputy Associate Administrator for OP. During her time at EPA, Brittany has played a critical role in leading OP, particularly as the office went through a major reorganization this last spring. Additionally, Brittany serves on EPA's Regulatory Reform Task Force and has testified before Congress on the agency's regulatory reform efforts.

Prior to joining EPA, Brittany worked for several Congressional committees in the Senate and House of Representatives focusing on environmental and regulatory policy. Brittany holds a J.D. from the George Mason University School of Law and a B.A. from the University of Florida.

Please join me in congratulating Brittany on her selection for this role.

Ryan Jackson
Chief of Staff

Hi Mike - While RMP is issued under the CAA, it is developed by OLEM – not OAR. I'm connecting you with my colleague, Patrick Davis, who is the political deputy in OLEM.

Thanks,
Brittany

First off...progress! I got the right email this time! Pretty sad I need to be proud of myself for using email properly.

I wanted to see if you could help point me in the right direction. Do you know who is handling RMP for the Agency? We wanted to bring some of our folks in to visit in the next couple weeks, as we have some ideas that maybe helpful to the agency in regards to RMP.

Thanks in advanced for your help.

Mike

RIN Demand

Refiner as Obligated Party

The EPA demands RINs from the Refiner which creates the demand for renewable fuel blending

Physical RIN/Fuel Flow Refiner as Obligated Party

Basis: 10 Gallons of E10

RIN flow connects the Renewable Fuel Producer, the Fuel Blender, and the Refiner to the EPA

RIN Value Flow

Refiner as Obligated Party

Basis: 10 Gallons of E10

The Consumer pays for the RIN value which then passes through the Fuel Blender and Refiner to ultimately subsidize the Renewable Fuel Producer

RIN Pass Through Sequence

Refiner as Obligated Party

Step #	Value Flow	Physical Flow	Comments
1	Consumer pays total fuel cost to Fuel Retailer	Consumer receives blended fuel from Fuel Retailer	Total fuel cost includes the cost of the petroleum fuel blend stock, ethanol, and the RIN
2	Fuel Retailer passes total fuel cost to Fuel Blender	Fuel Retailer receives blended fuel from Fuel Blender	Fuel Retailer passes through the RIN value to the Fuel Blender
3	Fuel Blender pays petroleum fuel blend stock and RIN cost to Refiner	Fuel Blender receives petroleum fuel blendstock from Refiner	Refiner receives the petroleum fuel blendstock value
4	Refiner pays RIN cost to Fuel Blender	Refiner receives RIN from Blender	Refiner remits RIN to the EPA
5	Fuel Blender pays ethanol and RIN cost to Renewable Fuel Producer	Fuel Blender receives ethanol with attached RIN	Renewable Fuel Blender receives the ethanol value and the RIN value (as a subsidy)

Hi Samantha,

I'm sorry I didn't get a chance to talk to you after. Everyone swarmed you so didn't want to interrupt your conversations.

Thanks for pulling all this together and including us. We are really looking forward to working with the Agency. As you all are getting things set up, please let us know how we can be helpful.

Mike

Subject: Idea to Accompany RFS WH Effort

Mike, Francis, Mandy and Samantha,

We had an idea that we wanted to share with you in all in regards to the RFS efforts at the White House. Understanding the need for the Administration to address the compliance costs involved with the RFS, as well as maintaining support for the ethanol industry, we still believe that legislation is the best path forward. That said, we also understand the difficulties of moving legislation without the appropriate pressure on both parties to get something done and the position you currently are in with these discussions.

With the potential memo coming out this week and it going to President Trump to make a decision, in order to still give legislation a chance, we want to suggest that the White House not place any deal (RIN cap for RVP etc.) in place until January 2019. If you all make a decision, then place an ultimatum on Congress to get this done by the end of the year or else. A sequester like mechanism to force Congress to act, i.e., if you can't reach a compromise we are moving forward with a RIN cap and RVP waiver. This would provide the time and pressure for a legislative agreement. If not, the President can still show he bent over backwards to find a "win, win" solution.

We do not believe refiners and ethanol are all that far apart on a compromises going forward. Along with our specific conversations with the ethanol industry, we also would point to the Poet/GPRE/ADM proposal which is basically Cornyn's legislation minus the sunset. With the right pressure coming from the Administration on all the parties, including Congress, I think they can come up with a deal by year's end that would be more comprehensive and hopefully allow us all to move on from this issue.

Jake and I are happy to discuss this idea with you further if you would like. Thanks for your consideration and hope to hear from you all soon.

Mike

Mandy and Samantha,

Also, as a follow up to last week's meeting (Samantha, we will bring this with us next week to review as well) Dave put together similar charts but as though the point of obligation would have been moved. Hopefully you find these helpful and if you need any additional clarification on any of the slides, please let us know.

Mandy, thank you for making the connection, and we are happy to provide you the fuels briefing again.

Samantha, we are happy to help you pull together all of that information and the briefings. We actually have Dave Whikehart, our VP of Environment, Safety and Corporate Affairs, returning to town next week on the 9th. Are you both available on the 9th? If you are, maybe we roll all these into one meeting. Samantha, at worst we can have Dave stop in to go through the RIN and RIN value flow charts with you since you were not able to join us last week.

If the 9th does not work, please let me know a few other dates that work for you both and we can try to get everyone here so we are maximizing your time.

Thanks!

Mike,

I want to connect you with Samantha Dravis (cc'd) who heads up our Office of Policy. She is interested in learning about MPCs operations, an overview of fuel logistics (i.e. Fred's briefing), an inside look at your HQ operations and getting the briefing you provided last week with particular emphasis on the RIN and RIN Value flow charts. Selfishly, I'd be interested in getting the fuels briefing again.

Samantha,

Mike is a good friend and one of the best lobbyists in town. He will set you up with whatever you need.

Best,
Mandy

Samantha,

I would hate to take up more than an hour of your time, as I know how busy you all are at the moment. So we can try to do a truncated logistics briefing and we should have reserve about 45 mins to go through the RIN and RIN Value flow slides. It took us about 45 minutes to go through those with Mandy and we were rushing. Does that work for you?

Mandy, if you can join in on this one please let me know. If not, we will happily come back anytime to go through all the logistics with you.

Subject: Quick Question

Hey Mandy-

I just texted you but my phone is about to die so just following up via email (and I don't want you think im stalking you). I was wondering if you had a few minutes to talk quickly about the Pruitt meeting AFPM Ceo's had originally scheduled for the 15th at 2 and has since been cancelled because of a hearing. Let me know what works for you—I am pretty flexible all afternoon.

Thank you!!

Sydney,

Hope you are well. I just wanted to circle back with you on this request. Actually, on June 6, BRT is holding their meeting and there will be a lot of CEO's in town for the meeting. We have been speaking with Chevron and wanted to see if the Administrator would potentially be interested in doing a joint meeting with Mr. Heminger, as well as Chevron's CEO, John Watson.

Please let me know if you think we can make a time on June 6 work for a meeting with both of our companies. Thanks!

Hi Sydney,
Marathon Petroleum Corp.'s CEO, Gary Heminger, will be in town June 20-21 and is looking to meet with the Administrator. I've cc'd Mike Birsic who is a good friend and is the point person for setting this up. Mr. Heminger would like to talk about RFS and air regulations, among other things.

Mike, fill in any missing details.

Sydney, let me know if you need anything else from my end in the interim.

Best,

Mandy
